Detailed description: This section shows the fingerings for the notes G, A, and B on a recorder. Each note is shown on a treble clef staff with a whole note. Below each staff is a vertical column of seven circles representing the recorder's keys. A horizontal line is drawn across the circles to indicate which keys are to be pressed. For G, the first three circles (top) are solid black, and the bottom four are white. For A, the first two circles are solid black, and the bottom five are white. For B, the first two circles are solid black, and the bottom five are white.
